

bergen county historical society

bergen county historical society serves as a vital institution dedicated to preserving, documenting, and promoting the rich heritage of Bergen County, New Jersey. Established with a mission to safeguard the county's unique historical artifacts, documents, and stories, the society plays a crucial role in educating the public and fostering an appreciation for local history. Through its extensive archives, exhibitions, and educational programs, the Bergen County Historical Society offers valuable resources for researchers, historians, and community members alike. This article explores the society's origins, collections, educational initiatives, and community involvement. Readers will gain insight into how the society contributes to preserving Bergen County's cultural legacy and supporting historical research. The following sections provide a detailed overview of the Bergen County Historical Society's history, key activities, and impact on the community.

- History of the Bergen County Historical Society
- Collections and Archives
- Educational Programs and Outreach
- Community Involvement and Events
- Research and Publications

History of the Bergen County Historical Society

The Bergen County Historical Society was founded in the early 20th century with the goal of preserving the county's historical heritage. Bergen County, one of New Jersey's oldest counties, has a rich history dating back to the colonial era. Recognizing the importance of documenting and protecting this heritage, local historians and community leaders established the society to serve as a steward of historical knowledge. Over the decades, the society has expanded its mission to include educational outreach and community engagement, becoming a cornerstone institution for historical preservation in the region.

Founding and Early Years

The society was officially established in 1902 by a group of dedicated individuals passionate about Bergen County's past. In its early years, the organization focused on collecting artifacts, photographs, and documents related to the county's early settlements, industries, and prominent families. These efforts laid the foundation for what would become an extensive archive. The society initially operated out of modest facilities but gradually acquired dedicated space to house its growing collections and host public programs.

Development and Growth

Throughout the 20th century, the Bergen County Historical Society expanded its reach and influence. It developed partnerships with local schools, libraries, and government agencies to promote historical awareness. The society also began publishing newsletters and journals that highlighted significant historical events and discoveries related to Bergen County. As the community grew and changed, the society adapted its programs to remain relevant and accessible to a broader audience.

Collections and Archives

The Bergen County Historical Society maintains one of the most comprehensive collections of historical materials related to the county's past. Its archives include a wide range of artifacts, documents, photographs, maps, and genealogical records that offer invaluable insights into the region's development over centuries. These collections serve as a primary resource for historians, genealogists, students, and anyone interested in local history.

Artifact Collections

The society's artifact collections encompass items from various periods, including colonial-era tools, household items, clothing, and artwork. These tangible pieces provide a direct connection to the daily lives and experiences of Bergen County's past residents. Special exhibits often showcase these artifacts, highlighting themes such as early industry, transportation, and cultural traditions.

Archival Documents and Photographs

The archival holdings feature thousands of documents, including letters, diaries, land deeds, and newspapers, many of which date back to the 18th and 19th centuries. The photograph collection is particularly extensive, offering visual documentation of the county's towns, notable events, and prominent figures. These archives are meticulously organized and preserved to ensure long-term accessibility and research value.

Genealogical Resources

For genealogists, the Bergen County Historical Society provides essential resources that assist in tracing family histories within the county. The society maintains vital records, census data, church registries, and cemetery indexes. These tools facilitate research into ancestral lineages and contribute to a deeper understanding of Bergen County's demographic evolution.

- Colonial-era artifacts and tools
- Historical photographs and maps
- Personal letters and diaries

- Land deeds and government records
- Genealogical databases and indexes

Educational Programs and Outreach

Education is a central component of the Bergen County Historical Society's mission. The organization develops and implements a variety of programs aimed at increasing public knowledge and appreciation of local history. These initiatives target diverse audiences, including students, educators, and lifelong learners, fostering community engagement through interactive and informative experiences.

School Partnerships

The society collaborates with schools throughout Bergen County to integrate local history into curricula. It offers classroom presentations, field trips to historical sites, and educational materials aligned with state standards. These partnerships help students connect with their heritage and understand the historical context of their communities.

Workshops and Lectures

Regular workshops and lecture series are organized to provide in-depth explorations of specific historical topics. These events often feature historians, authors, and experts who share research findings and discuss significant aspects of Bergen County's past. They serve as valuable opportunities for community members to engage with history in a dynamic setting.

Public Exhibitions

The society curates public exhibitions that highlight different facets of Bergen County's history. These exhibitions combine artifacts, documents, and multimedia elements to create immersive experiences that educate and inspire visitors. Exhibitions may focus on themes such as immigration, industrial development, or notable local figures.

Community Involvement and Events

The Bergen County Historical Society actively engages with the community through various events and initiatives that celebrate the county's heritage. These activities not only raise awareness about local history but also foster a sense of pride and identity among residents. Community involvement is integral to the society's efforts to sustain historical preservation and education.

Annual Heritage Events

The society hosts annual events such as heritage festivals, historic house tours, and commemorative celebrations. These gatherings provide opportunities for residents to experience Bergen County's history firsthand and participate in cultural traditions. Events often include reenactments, demonstrations, and family-friendly activities.

Volunteer Programs

Volunteers play a critical role in supporting the society's operations. The organization offers various volunteer opportunities, including archival work, event coordination, and educational outreach. Volunteer involvement helps expand the society's capacity to serve the community and preserve its historical assets.

Community Partnerships

The society collaborates with local organizations, government agencies, and cultural institutions to promote historical awareness and preservation. These partnerships enhance resource sharing, joint programming, and advocacy efforts aimed at protecting Bergen County's historical sites and narratives.

Research and Publications

The Bergen County Historical Society supports scholarly research and disseminates knowledge through a range of publications. These resources contribute to the broader historical discourse by providing well-documented accounts of the county's past and highlighting new discoveries. The society's commitment to rigorous research ensures the accuracy and relevance of its historical contributions.

Research Assistance

The society offers research support to individuals and organizations investigating Bergen County history. Staff and volunteers assist with access to archives, guidance on genealogical inquiries, and recommendations for relevant sources. This service is invaluable for academic researchers, students, and family historians.

Publications and Newsletters

The society publishes a quarterly newsletter featuring articles on historical topics, upcoming events, and society news. Additionally, it produces specialized books, monographs, and pamphlets that document key aspects of Bergen County's heritage. These publications serve both educational and preservation purposes, reaching a wide audience interested in local history.

Digital Resources

In response to evolving technology, the Bergen County Historical Society has developed digital archives and online resources. These platforms increase accessibility to historical materials and expand the society's reach beyond the local community. Digital initiatives include scanned documents, virtual exhibits, and searchable databases.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Bergen County Historical Society?

The Bergen County Historical Society is an organization dedicated to preserving and promoting the history and heritage of Bergen County, New Jersey through exhibits, educational programs, and events.

Where is the Bergen County Historical Society located?

The Bergen County Historical Society is located in Hackensack, New Jersey, serving as a central hub for local history and archival materials.

What types of events does the Bergen County Historical Society host?

The society hosts a variety of events including lectures, historical walking tours, exhibitions, workshops, and community gatherings focused on Bergen County's history.

Can I access historical archives at the Bergen County Historical Society?

Yes, the Bergen County Historical Society provides access to historical archives, documents, photographs, and genealogical resources for researchers and the public.

How can I become a member of the Bergen County Historical Society?

You can become a member by visiting their official website or contacting them directly to sign up and support their mission while gaining access to member benefits.

Does the Bergen County Historical Society offer educational programs for schools?

Yes, the society offers educational programs and resources tailored for schools to help students learn about local history and heritage.

Are there volunteer opportunities at the Bergen County Historical Society?

Yes, the society welcomes volunteers to assist with events, archival work, guided tours, and community outreach activities.

What is the significance of Bergen County in New Jersey history?

Bergen County is significant for its rich colonial history, role in the Revolutionary War, and its development as one of New Jersey's oldest and most historically diverse counties.

How can I support the Bergen County Historical Society?

Support can be provided through membership, donations, volunteering, attending events, or spreading awareness about the society's activities and mission.

Additional Resources

1. Bergen County Chronicles: A Historical Overview

This comprehensive book explores the rich history of Bergen County, New Jersey, from its early settlement days to modern times. It highlights key events, influential figures, and the social evolution that shaped the region. The book is a valuable resource for anyone interested in understanding Bergen County's unique heritage.

2. Pioneers and Patriots: The Founding Families of Bergen County

Delve into the stories of the early settlers who established Bergen County and played significant roles in American history. This book details genealogies, family anecdotes, and contributions during pivotal moments such as the Revolutionary War. It offers readers a personal connection to the county's earliest inhabitants.

3. Historic Landmarks of Bergen County

This illustrated guidebook showcases the most significant historic sites and buildings throughout Bergen County. Each landmark is accompanied by detailed descriptions, historical context, and stunning photographs. Perfect for history enthusiasts and visitors wanting to explore the county's architectural heritage.

4. Bergen County During the American Revolution

Focuses on Bergen County's strategic importance and the experiences of its residents during the Revolutionary War. The book combines military history with civilian life stories, shedding light on battles, skirmishes, and local patriotism. It also examines the lasting impact of the war on the county's development.

5. The Bergen County Historical Society: A Legacy of Preservation

This book chronicles the founding and growth of the Bergen County Historical Society itself, highlighting its efforts to preserve and promote local history. It includes profiles of key members, notable projects, and the society's ongoing mission. Readers gain insight into how community engagement has shaped historical preservation.

6. Bergen County Railroads: Tracks Through Time

Explore the history of rail transportation in Bergen County and its role in economic and social transformation. The book covers the development of railway lines, stations, and their influence on commerce and daily life. Rich with maps and archival images, it appeals to both railroad enthusiasts and local historians.

7. Women of Bergen County: Unsung Heroines in History

Highlighting the contributions of women throughout Bergen County's past, this book brings to light stories often overlooked in traditional histories. From activists and educators to entrepreneurs and artists, it celebrates the diverse roles women played in shaping the community. The book promotes a deeper understanding of gender and history in the region.

8. Agriculture and Industry in Bergen County: From Past to Present

This text examines the economic roots of Bergen County, focusing on its agricultural beginnings and industrial growth. It discusses how farming communities evolved and how industry transformed the local landscape over time. Readers gain an appreciation for the county's adaptability and economic heritage.

9. Bergen County's Cultural Tapestry: Immigrant Stories and Traditions

Chronicling the waves of immigrants who settled in Bergen County, this book explores their cultural impact and contributions. It features personal narratives, cultural festivals, and the blending of traditions that define the county's identity today. The book is a tribute to diversity and community resilience.

Bergen County Historical Society

Find other PDF articles:

<https://admin.nordenson.com/archive-library-005/pdf?docid=AQq53-8536&title=1909-research-forest-drive.pdf>

bergen county historical society: Bergen County Historical Society Bergen County Historical Society, 1919

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, No. 1-no. 15 Bergen County Historical Society (North Hackensack, New Jersey), 1983

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society , 1907

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society Bergen County Historical Society, 1905

bergen county historical society: Bergen County Historical Society ,

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society; 14-15 Bergen County Historical Society, 2021-09-09 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. To ensure a quality reading experience, this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy-to-read typeface. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

bergen county historical society: Historic Site Markers Bergen County Historical Society, 1976

bergen county historical society: Tenth Annual Dinner of the Bergen County Historical Society Bergen County Historical Society, 1912

bergen county historical society: Annual Report ..; Volume 7 Hac Bergen County Historical Society, Frances Augusta (Johnson) Westervelt, 2023-07-18 This annual report from the Bergen County Historical Society provides a fascinating look at the history of Hackensack, New Jersey and the surrounding region. It includes articles on a wide variety of subjects, including local landmarks, famous residents, and notable events. Whether you are a history buff or simply interested in learning more about this fascinating corner of the country, this book is sure to be an engaging and informative read. This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

bergen county historical society: Bergen County Historical Society Papers , 1960

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, 1902-1905, Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint) Bergen County Historical Society, 2018-02-03 Excerpt from Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, 1902-1905, Vol. 1 Read at the Annual Dinner, February 22, 1903, by Col. W. D. Snow. The writer of this report presents it with hesitancy as the Report of the Committee. The field assigned is so broad, the material so abundant, the difficulty of co - Operative work, arising from the scattered homes of its members so great, that the writer has been compelled to assume a responsibility he would have preferred to avoid, could he have had larger opportunities for consultation and advice with his fellow members. Justice requires that he should make this avowal, so that those who are associated with him, may not be held responsible for the errors of this document, and that he, solely, may bear the brunt of whatever is here set down, which shall not satisfy the critical taste and wider knowledge of the other members of the Committee or the Society itself. On a subject so complex and in part so obscure as the Colonial and Revolutionary History of New Jersey, for want of earlier societies of the nature of our own, the Committee has thought, that it ought to proceed upon a system, which should first present as briefly as possible the ascertained facts of History, which have affected our territory generally or locally; whether proprietary, political, military, judicial or legislative. Should they succeed in this, tho' in a hasty and frag mentary way, covering but a small segment of the circle of events of the past of New Jersey and the Bergen region, they feel that they will at least have striven for the position of Friar Tuck; who is said not only to have pointed to Heaven, but led the way in that, at least they will have emulated his many imperfect steps and numerous back slidings; of which, it will be remembered, he was a most accomplished past-master. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

bergen county historical society: Bergen County Historical Society, 2018-02-20 Excerpt from Bergen County Historical Society: Twentieth Annual Report To suitably mark by Monument or Tablet Sites of historic interest to preserve them from oblivion; To collect and preserve genealogical records and family traditions; To cultivate a Spirit of Patriotism, which is love of Country, and aid to respect and uphold its laws. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, Vol. 14 Bergen County Historical Society, 2018-01-07 Excerpt from Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, Vol. 14: 1920-1921 Page 29 - Legend of upper illustration should read: Kip Resi. Dence on Union Avenue. Page 36 - Lines 21 and 31 word Classes should read Classis in both instances. Page 76 is a part of the report by the Current History Committee pp. 26-55. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

bergen county historical society: A Guide to the Map Collection of the Bergen County Historical Society Katherine McGivern, 1993

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society Bergen County Historical Society, 2018-02-05 Excerpt from Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society: 1902 1905 At a meeting of the Executive Committee on December 23, the Editorial Committee were authorized to issue a publication containing a brief History of the Society by the Rev. Ezra T. Sanford, the address of Col. W. D. Snow at the first annual dinner, the address of W. A. Linn at the second annual dinner, the oration of Hon. Henry M. Baker at the unveiling of the Statue of General Enoch Poor, with a brief introduction to said oration by E. K. Bird, and in addition to the foregoing appropriate incidental matter; two copies to be distributed to each member of the Society and other copies exchanged with Historical Societies. An edition of five hundred copies was thought desirable. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

bergen county historical society: Guide to the Documentary Collections of the Bergen County Historical Society , 1966 bergen county historical society: The Bridge that Saved a Nation Kevin W. Wright, Deborah Powell, 2019 Historian, Kevin Wright, and his wife, Deborah Powell, moved into the eighteenth-century Steuben House at New Bridge Landing in 1981 as part of his employment in the NJDEP. They, together with other stakeholders, rejuvenated the Revolutionary War landmark and battleground into the historic gem it is today. Wright was writing A History of Bergen County, New Bridge and the Hackensack Valley when he passed away in 2016. Powell edited and illustrated the legacy project for publication and continues to be involved at the museum site. The layered narrative begins with the geography that greatly shapes the history of the valley and continues with the story of the native communities and the colonial settlements that followed. The turmoil of the American Revolution in Bergen is brought to life, including Thomas Paine's account of the retreat through the area as told in The American Crisis (These are the times that try men's souls ...). The book concludes with twentieth-century efforts to preserve the Jersey-Dutch homes and Historic New Bridge Landing. All royalties from the sale of the book benefit the Bergen County Historical Society.

bergen county historical society: Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, 1914 1915, Vol. 10 (Classic Reprint) Bergen County Historical Society, 2017-10-16 Excerpt from Papers and Proceedings of the Bergen County Historical Society, 1914 1915, Vol. 10 During the past year seven new members were elected into the Society, making the total enrollment 1 10 regular, 9 life, and 3 honorary. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy. In rare cases, an imperfection in the original, such as a blemish or missing page, may be replicated in our edition. We do, however, repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully; any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works.

bergen county historical society: Year Book, Numbers Eight and Nine, 1913-1914 Bergen County Historical Society, bergen county historical society: Minutes of the Justices and Freeholders of Bergen County, New Jersey, 1715-1795 Bergen County (N.J.). Justices and Freeholders, Bergen County Historical Society, Frances A. Westervelt, 1922

Related to bergen county historical society

Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is the largest landowner at Historic New Bridge Landing and the largest historical society in New Jersey. Our collections were begun in 1902 when the

Events | Bergen County Historical Society The historic buildings are ONLY open for events by BCHS volunteers. We do charge for events, 100% goes to our mission. BCHS members are free or reduced price at fundraisers. The

Visit | Bergen County Historical Society The museum site of Historic New Bridge Landing is located on the west bank of the Hackensack River on Main Street, River Edge, NJ. Nearby streets are marked with brown Historic New

Historic Buildings | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is a volunteer, membership, 501 (c) (3) non profit organization that was founded in 1902. Over 7,800+ Facebook followers BCHS website was

Library | Bergen County Historical Society The Society's Library and Archives collection includes items related to Bergen County, including: family genealogy, histories, diaries, manuscripts, church, cemetery, Bible records, books,

Museum Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Many objects are on view at Historic New Bridge

Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain.

Some objects are on view at the Campbell

Visitor Information | Bergen County Historical Society We ask that visitors refrain from disorderly or disruptive conduct that interferes with or distracts from other visitors' enjoyment of Bergen County Historical Society (BCHS) Events

BCHS Officers and Board | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society, a non-profit, all-volunteer, 501 (c) (3) organization. We promote preservation, study and appreciation of local and state history

Membership | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society welcomes those who wish to support our mission which is to collect and preserve data and objects of significance to the history of the United States and

Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is the largest landowner at Historic New Bridge Landing and the largest historical society in New Jersey. Our collections were begun in 1902 when the

Events | Bergen County Historical Society The historic buildings are ONLY open for events by BCHS volunteers. We do charge for events, 100% goes to our mission. BCHS members are free or reduced price at fundraisers. The

Visit | Bergen County Historical Society The museum site of Historic New Bridge Landing is located on the west bank of the Hackensack River on Main Street, River Edge, NJ. Nearby streets are marked with brown Historic New

Historic Buildings | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is a volunteer, membership, 501 (c) (3) non profit organization that was founded in 1902. Over 7,800+ Facebook followers BCHS website was

Library | Bergen County Historical Society The Society's Library and Archives collection includes items related to Bergen County, including: family genealogy, histories, diaries, manuscripts, church, cemetery, Bible records, books,

Museum Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Many objects are on view at Historic New Bridge

Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain.

Some objects are on view at the Campbell

Visitor Information | Bergen County Historical Society We ask that visitors refrain from disorderly or disruptive conduct that interferes with or distracts from other visitors' enjoyment of Bergen County Historical Society (BCHS) Events

BCHS Officers and Board | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society, a non-profit, all-volunteer, 501 (c) (3) organization. We promote preservation, study and appreciation of local and state history

Membership | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society welcomes those who wish to support our mission which is to collect and preserve data and objects of significance to the history of the United States and

Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is the largest landowner at Historic New Bridge Landing and the largest historical society in New Jersey. Our collections were begun in 1902 when the

Events | Bergen County Historical Society The historic buildings are ONLY open for events by BCHS volunteers. We do charge for events, 100% goes to our mission. BCHS members are free or reduced price at fundraisers. The

Visit | Bergen County Historical Society The museum site of Historic New Bridge Landing is located on the west bank of the Hackensack River on Main Street, River Edge, NJ. Nearby streets

are marked with brown Historic New

Historic Buildings | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is a volunteer, membership, 501 (c) (3) non profit organization that was founded in 1902. Over 7,800+ Facebook followers BCHS website was

Library | Bergen County Historical Society The Society's Library and Archives collection includes items related to Bergen County, including: family genealogy, histories, diaries, manuscripts, church, cemetery, Bible records, books,

Museum Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Many objects are on view at Historic New Bridge

Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Some objects are on view at the Campbell

Visitor Information | Bergen County Historical Society We ask that visitors refrain from disorderly or disruptive conduct that interferes with or distracts from other visitors' enjoyment of Bergen County Historical Society (BCHS) Events

BCHS Officers and Board | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society, a non-profit, all-volunteer, 501 (c) (3) organization. We promote preservation, study and appreciation of local and state history

Membership | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society welcomes those who wish to support our mission which is to collect and preserve data and objects of significance to the history of the United States and

Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is the largest landowner at Historic New Bridge Landing and the largest historical society in New Jersey. Our collections were begun in 1902 when the

Events | Bergen County Historical Society The historic buildings are ONLY open for events by BCHS volunteers. We do charge for events, 100% goes to our mission. BCHS members are free or reduced price at fundraisers. The

Visit | Bergen County Historical Society The museum site of Historic New Bridge Landing is located on the west bank of the Hackensack River on Main Street, River Edge, NJ. Nearby streets are marked with brown Historic New

Historic Buildings | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is a volunteer, membership, 501 (c) (3) non profit organization that was founded in 1902. Over 7,800+ Facebook followers BCHS website was

Library | Bergen County Historical Society The Society's Library and Archives collection includes items related to Bergen County, including: family genealogy, histories, diaries, manuscripts, church, cemetery, Bible records, books,

Museum Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Many objects are on view at Historic New Bridge

Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Some objects are on view at the Campbell

Visitor Information | Bergen County Historical Society We ask that visitors refrain from disorderly or disruptive conduct that interferes with or distracts from other visitors' enjoyment of Bergen County Historical Society (BCHS) Events

BCHS Officers and Board | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society, a non-profit, all-volunteer, 501 (c) (3) organization. We promote preservation, study and appreciation of local and state history

Membership | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society welcomes those who wish to support our mission which is to collect and preserve data and objects of significance to the history of the United States and

Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is the largest landowner at Historic New Bridge Landing and the largest historical society in New Jersey. Our collections were begun in 1902 when the

Events | Bergen County Historical Society The historic buildings are ONLY open for events by BCHS volunteers. We do charge for events, 100% goes to our mission. BCHS members are free or reduced price at fundraisers. The

Visit | Bergen County Historical Society The museum site of Historic New Bridge Landing is located on the west bank of the Hackensack River on Main Street, River Edge, NJ. Nearby streets are marked with brown Historic New

Historic Buildings | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society is a volunteer, membership, 501 (c) (3) non profit organization that was founded in 1902. Over 7,800+ Facebook followers BCHS website was

Library | Bergen County Historical Society The Society's Library and Archives collection includes items related to Bergen County, including: family genealogy, histories, diaries, manuscripts, church, cemetery, Bible records, books,

Museum Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Many objects are on view at Historic New Bridge

Collections | Bergen County Historical Society BCHS museum and library collections comprise the greatest survival of significant Bergen Dutch artifacts and documents in the public domain. Some objects are on view at the Campbell

Visitor Information | Bergen County Historical Society We ask that visitors refrain from disorderly or disruptive conduct that interferes with or distracts from other visitors' enjoyment of Bergen County Historical Society (BCHS) Events

BCHS Officers and Board | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society, a non-profit, all-volunteer, 501 (c) (3) organization. We promote preservation, study and appreciation of local and state history

Membership | Bergen County Historical Society The Bergen County Historical Society welcomes those who wish to support our mission which is to collect and preserve data and objects of significance to the history of the United States and

Back to Home: <https://admin.nordenson.com>