forum on education abroad conference 2024: Proceedings of the 7th Celt International Conference (CIC 2024) Ekawati Marhaenny Dukut, Antonius Suratno, Heny Hartono, Radhika Gajjala, M. Mary Jayanthi, Christopher D. Gabriel, Hazel P. Atilano, 2024-12-31 This is an open access book. The English language stands as a pivotal tool for fostering international dialogue, facilitating the acquisition of scientific and technological knowledge, propelling economic growth, and enabling participation in global competition. Its prestigious role in a myriad of domains has significantly elevated the importance of English Language Teaching (ELT). Among the emerging approaches in ELT, the integration of Artificial Intelligence (AI), particularly within the framework of Communicative Language Teaching (CLT), offers transformative potential. To harness the benefits of AI in ELT, substantial investments have been directed towards modernizing educational curricula, revising English syllabi to incorporate AI-driven principles and methodologies, developing communication-oriented textbooks, crafting skill-focused assessments, and enhancing educators' comprehension of novel language learning theories and pedagogies. This comprehensive approach aims to elevate the effectiveness of ELT by aligning it with contemporary technological advancements. However, the widespread endorsement of CLT and AI integration is not without its challenges. Despite the professed commitment of many educators to CLT, resistance persists across both Eastern and Western educational contexts. Cultural specialists and educators frequently debate the necessity, appropriateness, and efficacy of CLT and AI in language teaching. This ongoing debate underscores several constraints, including insufficient resources, limited instructional time, and a lack of linguistic and sociocultural competence among educators. Consequently, ELT pedagogies have evolved differently across various social, cultural, and economic environments, reflecting the diverse contexts in which they are implemented. The 7th Celt International Conference (CIC) aims to provide a critical platform for examining the complexities of integrating CLT and AI within the culturally nuanced landscapes of English Language, Literature, and Arts education. The conference will explore how deeply ingrained cultural expectations can conflict with the adoption of innovative teaching methodologies, and how such resilience can be navigated to enhance the educational experience. We invite educators, policymakers, sociologists, cultural experts, business leaders, artists, and entrepreneurs to participate in the 2024 CIC Webinar. This event, themed "Cultural Resilience and the Emergence of AI in the Teaching and Learning of English Language, Literature, and Arts," will facilitate an exchange of experiences, ideas, and practices that address the intersection of tradition and innovation in the context of ELT. Your participation will contribute to a richer understanding of how to effectively integrate AI in language education while respecting and adapting to cultural particularities. Join us in this crucial dialogue and be part of shaping the future of English Language, Literature, and Arts education amidst the challenges and opportunities presented by AI and cultural resilience.

forum on education abroad conference 2024: Continuing Engineering Education for a Sustainable Future Patricia Caratozzolo, Angeles Dominguez, Bente Nørgaard, Guillermo M. Chans, 2025-08-06 The World Economic Forum stated in its 2023 “Future of Jobs” report that 44% of workers' skills will change in the next five years. Additionally, six out of ten workers will require training before 2027, and only half will have adequate training opportunities. With this in mind, the three most pressing challenges currently facing the Continuing Engineering Education (CEE) community include: 1. The shifting skill requirements dictated by the job market. Engineering roles in various sectors are evolving, demanding a mix of Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSA) that is difficult to predict with certainty. In addition, the pace of Digital Transformation will highly influence these requirements. 2. The climate change mitigation and adaptation. Engineers must reskill and adapt to changing sustainability requirements, and educational programs must support this transition. 3. The underrepresentation of minorities. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, and individuals with disabilities face disparities in opportunities, mentorship, and inclusion.

forum on education abroad conference 2024: Transformative Approaches to Career-Ready Education Ivan Gratchev, Krishnasamy T. Selvan, Hugo G. Espinosa, 2025-06-20 Universities worldwide play a pivotal role in shaping the future workforce by equipping students with the skills, knowledge, and attitude required to thrive in an ever-evolving job market. Transformative Approaches to Career-Ready Education addresses the critical challenge of aligning higher education with modern industry and national expectations. This book brings together diverse perspectives from leading educators, researchers, and industry practitioners, offering practical strategies to enhance teaching and learning. Inspired by the Webinars in Engineering Education initiative, a collaboration between Griffith University, Australia, and SSN College of Engineering, India, this book explores innovative pedagogies, immersive learning environments, higher education goals, and assessment practices that foster critical thinking, problem-solving, and adaptability among students. Organized into four thematic sections, the chapters delve into foundational skills for career success, practical approaches to career readiness, industry insights on graduate employability, and transformative innovations for higher education. Featuring case studies, evidence-based practices, and future-oriented discussions, this book showcases how universities can empower students to meet the demands of a rapidly evolving world. Ideal for educators, policymakers, and industry leaders, this book inspires a reimagining of higher education to produce career-ready graduates who are not only prepared to enter the workforce but to excel and grow throughout their professional journeys.

forum on education abroad conference 2024: A Compelling Case for Universities Quintin McKellar, 2025-05-01 This book unapologetically celebrates the achievements of the University. Major drivers of enlightenment and powerhouses of the economy, universities have evolved and thrived for over a thousand years. While still reflecting their beginnings in medieval knowledge-sharing communities, modern universities have grown exponentially in both size and number. Predictions suggest global student numbers will more than double from 216 million in 2016 to 472 million in 2035. This growth has demanded new models of funding as well as many new providers who have added diversity and complexity to the traditional idea of a university. The author recounts this exciting evolution, before turning to the major issues with which higher education is concerned today, broadly following the student journey from admission to graduation and beyond. A prospective university student first needs to gain a place, the process throwing up important questions about access and equity. Once admitted, they can benefit from not only the education on offer but a wealth of extra-curricular opportunities. And research suggests that, once they leave, the experience of university will enrich their life in numerous ways. With clear-sighted chapters on research and innovation and thoughtful excursions into funding and governance, together with some proposals for change, this is a trenchant review of today's university landscape which nonetheless concludes that the current model of higher education is both highly effective and sufficiently adaptive. Whilst facing up to difficult issues which must be addressed, Professor McKellar derives satisfaction from the evidence of great overall achievement.

At its core, the book aims to showcase concrete examples of successful service learning applications, acting as a catalyst for the integration of this transformative pedagogy into the academic fabric. Beyond the surface, the book delves into the intricate planning, execution, and assessment stages of service learning projects, whether manifested within local communities or on an international scale. It seeks to fill notable knowledge gaps, particularly in less-explored regions like Latin America and the Caribbean and underscores the significance of multidisciplinary experiences.
