max verstappen training video: Max Verstappen: The Formula 1 Phenomenon Fabricio Sales Silva, 2025-04-03 When I look back at the path I have traveled, I realize that life is very much like a race. There are times when you feel like you're flying, overcoming everything and everyone, and others when you're stuck in traffic, not knowing how to move forward. But most of all, it's about finding your speed, the one that's yours alone. No matter how many curves there are or how many obstacles come your way, you need to believe in yourself and keep going. I was born to run. This is something I have always known. From a young age, watching my father, Jos, compete in Formula 1, I realized that I didn't just want to live in the world of racing, but to dominate it. My father taught me much more than how to fly. He taught me to be resilient, to fall and get up stronger. It wasn't easy. Many looked at me as just the son of Jos Verstappen, but I wanted to prove that the surname was not what would define me, but my achievements. The difficulties I faced shaped me. The criticism strengthened me. And failures taught me. But there's something I want you to know: it doesn't matter where you are right now, nor how far away your dream seems to be. If you commit to working, learning from every mistake, and never giving up, you can achieve anything. Success is not a point of arrival; It's a journey.
